

SEMINOLE HARD ROCK ROADHOUSE ROCKS BIKETOBERFEST 2008

The Seminole Hard Rock Roadhouse was once again the hangout of choice for motorcycle enthusiasts during Biketoberfest 2008. Set up at the Doghouse Bar and Grill on Main Street, the Roadhouse hosted the week's top builders, hottest bikes, and best events.

Known for their rolling fleet of the coolest customs, the Seminole Hard Rock Roadhouse did not disappoint. The Roadhouse welcomed two new builders to their display during Biketoberfest. Steve Broyles of Stevenson's Cycle displayed his Smokeout Winner, and Bill Dodge of Blings Cycles displayed his S&S 50th anniversary bike. Bikes from Roadhouse regulars were also on display. Sucker Punch Sally's and Christian Clayton displayed their Hard Rock Bike, while Paul Cox showed off his S&S 50th anniversary bike, titled "The Sword of Damocles."

Proceeds raised from ticket sales to Biker Fusion went to benefit Soldier's Angels, as did the proceeds from the auction held that night. Special thanks goes to the auction donors: 360 Brake for donating a new 6-inch brake set-up, Ami James Jewelry for donating several belt buckles, a solid silver bracelet and a one-of-a-kind diamond silver skull ring, and Dave Perewitz for donating a custom-painted bucket. Overall, the Biker Fusion event was well attended and raised $10,000 for the Soldier's Angels.

Carrie Repp of R&R Promotions noted "This year's turnout was great, and we're excited to send the proceeds to an organization that supports our military men and women."
